Miss Ceci obtained a college degree in Preschool Education in 2000, and later specialized in Psychomotor Development, which led to her work as neuromotor specialist helping children with Down syndrome, autism, and ADHD.

A strong proponent of Maria Montessori's educational philosophy, she studied the Casa de los Niños Guide Workshop course in Playa del Carmen for two years. There she learned about the importance of providing children with an environment that offers them independence and a sense of order and belonging.

Her recent professional experience includes being a pre-school teacher at Colegio Inglés and at the Montessori School of Playa del Carmen. She has also served as a co-guide for Casa de los Niños and Comunidad Infantil.

Miss Ceci grew up in the small town of Sombrerete in the state of Zacatecas, and later moved to Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, to complete her studies. She is a mother to three girls, and has been with our educational community since March 2017.
